Pittsburgh, July 6, 1819.——2awtf.

To the Electors of Allegeny county.

AS I have been placed before the public as a candidate for the office of SHERIFF at our next election, with my full approbation, and as hints have been given in some parts of the county, that I had given up the idea of standing a poll, I consider it a duty I owe myself to state thus publicly, that I have not declined. The duties of a very confining business have prevented me from making that personal declaration to my fellow citizens, which has become usual on these occasions, yet I trust, that as my whole life has been passed in this county, sufficient information as to my qualifications or unfitness for the office, may be easily acquired by any individual who may think fit to make the enquiry. If the citizens of Allegheny shall think proper to favor me with their voice on the day of election, I shall feel highly gratified, for more reasons than one; if another of the candidates be preferred to me, I shall acquiesce without a murmur, convinced that every member of our society ought to exercise independently, the full right of suffrage.

Your humble serv't.
MORGAN NEVILLE.

Pittsburgh, July 6.

RANAWAY

ON Sunday the 13th June, a Negro Boy named SAM RICHARDSON, 19 years of age, about 5 feet 10 inches high, has but little beard, a very round face, small sharp black eyes, slender made, has a very slim foot, is very proud, and very polite when spoken to, is a Shoemaker by trade, and a good workman, particularly at boots; had on when he went away a good black broad cloth coat, grey mixed pantaloons, striped marseilles vest, fur hat, right and left pumps, and took with him a pair of snuff coloured pantaloons. It is supposed that he has forged a pass in my name; he rode away a dark chesnut sorrel Mare, about 15 hands high, a blemish in the right eye, shod all round, the skin rubbed of her shoulders by the collar, the saddle is about half worn, with a head and cantle, a blanket with WM. BOWMAN'S name sewed in, under the skirts; the bridle is a stiff bitt, with red leather, the throat latch buckle is out.

125 Dollars Reward

will be given to any person who shall apprehend said negro and horse, or one hundred for the negro, if taken out of the state, and confined in any jail, so that he may be recovered; or Two Hundred Dollars if delivered in Lexington, Ky. to ISAAC REED, Boot and Shoemaker.
June 22.——4t

GRATEFUL for past favours, respectfully informs his friends and the public in general, that he has on hand a handsome assortment o FANCY and WINDSOR CHAIRS and SETTEES, which he offers for sale on accommodating terms.

Having determined to execute every article in his line in the best and most fashionable manner, he flatters himself from that conduct and assiduous attention to business, to merit a share of public patronage.

Orders from a distance can be filled with articles of workmanship equal, if not superior to any made here, and perhaps on more moderate terms.

Wanted immediately, a person who is well acquainted with Chair Painting and Ornamenting, to whom good wages will be given.

One or two Apprentices wanted to the above business. Boys from the country will be preferred. Pittsburgh, May 11, 1819.

Stop the Runaway!

JAMES ANNAN, an apprentice to the tinplate working business, ranaway from the subscriber on the 5th inst. and took with him sundry cloathing—among which were a straight claret coloured cloth coat, a snuff coloured coattee, five or six pairs of pantaloons, eight or ten waistcoats, a good fur hat, new shoes, and sundry other clothing not recollected. This fellow is about 6 feet high, slender form, has an ill look, and will steal when he can get an opportunity.

This is to forbid all persons from harbouring or employing him, as they will be dealt with according to law. Whoever will take up said runaway and deliver him to the subscriber, shall receive Five cents reward, but no charges.

PATENT GAS FIRE,

FOR STEAM BOAT.

A CONCENTRATED FUEL for Steam-Boats has been invented, consisting of Tar or other carbonaceous substance, commingled with Steam,

The apparatus is simple; the management easy and safe. It is a great auxiliary to a wood or coal fire, which it both enlivens, encreases and saves—for it seems to combine so rapidly with the oxygen of the air, as to prevent the wood from wasting or consuming so fast as usual, the blaze, notwithstanding, being very active and intense.

The apparatus consists of a double vessel of copper or iron, cylindrical, lying on its side, upon or rather between the boilers, if there are 2.

Tar, Turpentine, Rosin, Spirits, Oil, or other combustible fluid, being put into the inner one, steam is allowed to flow from the boiler through a pipe and cock into the space between and thro' a few holes on the upper side of the inner one to press on the surface of the tar, which being heated by the surrounding steam, is at pleasure driven out through a small pipe (having a stop cock) meeting and uniting with another pipe leading out steam from the space between—the continuation of the pipe then leads to the fire or flue. The longer this pipe (if kept hot) the better. It need not be more than a quarter o an inch in diameter.

In its way the tar is extremely attenuated and mingling with the steam. Some chemists are of opinion that by the attraction of its carbon, it decomposes the steam into the constituents of water, oxygen and hydrogen, and combines with them to form the highly inflamable Gasses, carbonic-acid and carburetted hydrogen, or if not thus formed in the pipe, they are produced at or near its orifice, which need not be more than the tenth of an inch diameter for a boiler of consi derable size.

The only art in management, is to graduate the flow of the tar and steam to such proportion as that neither shall appear to predominate, and in taking care that the fluid be previously strained so as not to obstruct the pipe by any extraneous particles. This will easily be done by placing a seive over the reservoir, from which a pipe (having a stop cock) leads into one end of the tar vessel. There is of course a safety valve and a stop cock to draw the condensed steam from between the two vessels, formed there in the beginning of the operation, while the tar was at a low temperature. Its position on the boilers will, however soon heat it. Tar boils only at a much higher temperature than water—there is therefore no danger from it.

The advantages of this kind of fuel will be very great in long passages. No steam boat or vessel can navigate the Ocean without it; and it will be found economical and convenient in every situation.

Being of recent origin, it has not been put in practice in many instances, but in several, under my own observation, and witnessed by many persons, its effects are admirable.

This advertisement is intended to offer its use gratis to a few boats, whose proprietors shall first obtain a licence. The price of this improvement afterwards will be several thousand dollars per boat, which it will be found economical in most situations to pay. The patent right for local use will be for sale after its value shall be further tested.

Licences to use this invention will be granted by

JOHN L. SULLIVAN,
Assignee of the patent of Samuel Morey
Boston, February 19, 1819.

Valuable Real Estate and Ground Rents for Sale.

THE subscriber offers for sale, on reasonable terms, the following very valuable real estate and ground rents in the city of Pittsburgh, to wit:

One Lot, situate at the corner of Ferry and Water streets, containing 35 feet front on Water street and the Monongahela river, and 98 feet on Ferry street, now in the possession of Mr. Florence Cotter, and occupied as a grocery and liquor store, and rented at 450 dollars per annum.

Also, one lot situated on the west side of Market street, between First and Second streets, containing 23 feet front on Market street by 70 feet deep, at present unoccupied—formerly occupied as a saddler's shop—for which business or for a dry goods store, it is one of the best stands in the city.

Also—ground rent to the amount of two thousand dollars per annum, secured upon real estate, on which is erected permanent brick buildings, in some of the most conspicuous parts of the city.

The terms upon which this property will be disposed of are of the most advantageous kind.—A very small portion of the purchase money will be required in hand—and the balance may be paid, either in annual instalments, with interest, or in such portions as may be convenient to the purchaser, payment being secured by mortgage or judgement—It being the object of the subscriber to give a long credit.

Application may be made to Walter Forward, Esq. at his office in the Diamond, or to the subscriber in Pitt township, on the turnpike road, three miles from Pittsburgh, who will describe the property and make known the terms of sale.

Pittsburgh, December 11, 1818.

Pittsburgh Manufacturing Association.

A NUMBER of the Mechanicks and Manufacturers of the City of Pittsburgh and its vicinity, anxious to promote and invigorate that spirit of domestic industry which is so essential to the prosperity of the western country, having entered into an association under the above denomination, inform the public that they have opened a large and convenient Brick Warehouse in Wood Street, between Front and Second Streets, for the reception and sale of the different articles which they manufacture, together with such articles of domestick produce and manufacture as may be deposited for sale, or consigned to their care; and have appointed George Cochran their Chief Clerk or Agent, to whom all orders and communications on the mercantile business of the association, will in future be addressed. They intend to receive, forward and dispose of all goods entrusted to their care, (especially articles of domestick produce and manufacture) on the most reasonable terms, and hope to give satisfaction to those who may please to favour them with their custom and patronage. From the variety and extent of domestic produce and manufactures which may be collected and offered for sale at their Warehouse, with punctuality in paying over the proceeds, and attention to business, a beneficial result is anticipated, as well to the vender as the purchaser.

All orders enclosing the cash for articles manufactured by the members of the association, or sold in their Warehouse, will be promptly and faithfully executed, at the lowest wholesale prices, without any charge for commission, and western current notes taken in payment.

It is also intended to exchange manufactured articles for country produce and raw materials, such as Iron, Lead, Wool, Cotton, Sugar, Salt, Whiskey, Bacon, Hogs lard, Butter, Cheese, Flaxseed Oil, Hogs Bristles, Linen, Yarn, Rags.

Annexed is a list of articles now offered for Sale.

Pittsburgh Gazette.

FRIDAY MORNING, JULY 9, 1819.

CELEBRATION OF THE 4th OF JULY.

City Blues.

The City Blues under the command of captain Morgan Neville, having fired a salute of 13 rounds at the dawn of day, on Grant's Hill, formed at ten o'clock, in front of the first Presbyterian church: They were here soon after joined by the City Fencibles under captain J. Hall, & the Birmingham Washington Guards under captain E. Ensell—the three companies having been formed together, marched through Pittsburgh, changing fronts alternately, until they arrived at the Monongahela Bridge, where the City Fencibles left them to repair to the place where they were to dine. The other two companies marched together to Birmingham, where they separated for their respective places selected for dinner.

When the City Blues reached the place of destination, the Declaration of Independence was read by Dr. Joel Lewis, at the request of the company; a well composed, appropriate and neat address was then delivered by Major James C. Butler, a member of the company, which was received with unbounded applause. At two o'clock the party, among which there was a large number of respectable citizens, sat down to a dinner prepared by Mr. Kintzer, immediately on the bank of the Monongahela. After the cloth was removed, the following toasts were given.

TOASTS.

The Day we celebrate: Our veneration for it increases with the interval from its first anniversary.

The Memory of Washington.

James Monroe, the President of the people: The Apalachian mountains do not conceal the West, from his paternal eye.

The Legislature of Pennsylvania: Although it convenes on the banks of the Susquehannah, let it not forget that the brightest jewel in the state crown is at the head of the Ohio.

The Battles of Lexington and of Orleans: Correct standards of American fortitude.

"The Star-spangled Banner:"

When Freedom from her mountain height,
Unfurl'd her standard to the air,
She tore the azure robe of night,
And set the stars of glory there—
She mingled with its gorgeous dyes,
The milky baldrick of the skies,
And striped its pure celestial white,
With streakings of the morning light;
Then from her mansion in the sun,
She call'd her eagle bearer down,
And gave into his mighty hand,
The symbol of her chosen land.

The Soldiers of the Revolution: Their monument is a people's gratitude; their memorial is in a nation's bosom.

The American Navy: Its dawn has eclipsed the meridian splendour of the European.

The late Army: Its career was short but its promise was brilliant; it has left a rallying point for the American soldier.

The Washington Guards & City Fencibles: In the day of battle, we shall be happy to form with them, either on the right, left, or in the centre.

Mechanics and Manufacturers: The key-stone of the arch of western prosperity.

The Fair Sex: To the citizen, the chief ingredient of happiness—to the soldier, the first incentive to glory.

VOLUNTEERS.

By captain Morgan Neville.

The Volunteer spirit of Pittsburgh & Birmingham—Not the momentary flash of the meteor, but the pure and steady flame of the altar of Vesta.

By lieutenant Peter Beard,

Our Guest—The Hon. Henry Baldwin.

By C. Shaler, esq.

The Hon. John Quincy Adams. The able diplomatist, who brought our negociations with Spain to a happy termination.

By William Lecky, esq.

The Manufactures of the U. States: May the time soon arrive when every American shall be clothed in the manufacture of his country.

By lieutenant E. Trevillo,

The memory of James Irwin, late captain of the City Guards.

By corporal Pratt,

Captain M. Magee, of the U. S. Army: Whilst his bravery is acknowledged in the field, may his pre-eminence as a tactician be duly appreciated.

By the Hon. Jonathan Walker,

Erin—The blood of her sons has fattened the American soil; may her children be received with that cordiality and treated with that hospitality which they, on the like occasion, would most cheerfully reciprocate.

By A. Brackenridge, esq.

Domestic Manufactures and Internal Improvement: The period of their encouragement will be the epoch of American greatness.

By the Hon. Henry Baldwin, esq.
Captain James R. Butler.

By Mr. Bowyer.

American Cannon, with a few cases of Long Primer, Decatur and Porter compositors, and a Biddle for a pressman, we have nothing to fear from Spanish pulls.

The City Fencibles

Commanded by Capt. James Hall, paraded on the morning of Monday the 5th inst. on Grants Hill, and thence proceeded to join the companies in Wood street After marching through the city, the companies separated at the Monongahela bridge, and the Fencibles embarked in a fine boat for which they were indebted to the politeness of Mr. Srode its owner. During the passage down the river a variety of national and martial airs were played by a fine band of amateurs on board. An excellent repast was prepared at the mouth of Saw Mill run, where the day was spent with temperance and harmony. After dinner the following toasts were drank.

1. The day we celebrate.
2. The Fair.—All volunteers are their slaves, and their slaves are all volunteers.
3. The memory of Washington.
4. The heroes of the revolution.
5. James Monroe, President of the United States.—He has always done his duty as a soldier, as a statesman, and as an honest man.
6. The Army of the United States.—Their gallant deeds entitle them to a manding station in the affections of their countrymen.
7. The Navy.—The sheet-anchor of the nation.
8. Domestic Manufactures.—The best preventive of hard times.
9. Commerce.—May our merchants who have missed fire, soon be able to pick their flints and take a new aim.
10. Agriculture.—He that puts his hand to the plough will seldom have his soul harrowed with cares.
11. Braddock's Field.

"There rose the god-like chief at heav'ns command,
The star of promise to this cherish'd land."

12. Our Representatives in Congress. May they serve out their times faithfully and receive an honourable discharge.
13. The achievements of our fathers. The best incentive to youthful enterprise.
14. Our Banks.—May the time come when we shall have no tellers among us but fortune tellers.
15. Specie, Gunpowder and Whiskey. May we never know such hard times, as not to have a little of the one for a friend, and of the other for an enemy.
16. Soldiers and Sailors.

"None but the brave deserve the fair."

VOLUNTEERS.

By Capt. Hall.—The memory of the late Gen. Presley Neville.

"——— a braver gentleman—
Lives not to grace this latter age with noble deeds."

By Lieut. Robinson—Gen. Sinclair. His remains are buried in obscurity, but his memory lives in the breast of every American.

By Lieut. Thompson.—The city Blues. Formed of the same materials and distinguished by the same virtues, which have always characterised American volunteers.

By Ensign Baird.—May peace and harmony subsist among the volunteer associations of Pittsburgh and may every idle dispute and frivolous distinction be buried in oblivion.

By Judge Riddle.—The Irish Emigrant.—May he always find rest on this side of the Alleghany mountains.

By Gen. Baird.—Liberty and Independence.—May they ever be the lot of Americans.

By M. M. Murray, Esq.—Our Republican Institutions.—Purchased by the valour of our fathers, and preserved by the virtue of their children.

By Wm. M'Candless, Esq.—The memory of Gen. Pike.

By Capt. Henry Doane.—The banking system of Pittsburgh.

"Insatiate archer! could not one suffice?
Thy shaft sped thrice, and thrice my peace was slain!"

By Mr. Hughes.—The volunteer artillerists of Baltimore who so nobly defended Fort M'Henry.

By Mr. C. C. Febiger.—Dr. Montgomery of the navy, who challenged a whole British regiment at Gibraltar.

By a Member.—Our next Sheriff.—May he never be obliged to tap a friend on the shoulder—the present company not excepted.

By Mr. Kelly.—Our enemies.—May they be lathered with aquafortis and shaved with handsaws.

By Mr. Wylie—Our worthy absent member, Mr. John Weaver first Sergeant.

By Lieut. Thompson—Commodore Murray, the oldest and best sailor in the navy.

By Mr. Langtry—May the man we trust be honest, and the land we live in, free.

By Mr. Mark Wilson.—Our next governor—May he be wise, virtuous and patriotic.

By Mr. Kerr—The brave, but neglected Gen. Stark.

By Mr. Scott—The memory of the late Capt. James Irwin.

By Mr. Hunter—The memory of the brave and lamented hero of Bunker's Hill, Gen. Warren.

By Mr. Johnston—Captain James R. Butler, the hero of Mississineway.

By Mr. Warren—May the eagle of liberty fly through the air of slavery, and pick crowns off the heads of tyrants.

By Mr. Bell—The shackles of matrimony, may they be the only kind ever worn by Americans.

By Mr F. Neville—Commodore Perry may peace and happiness ever attend him.

HISTORICAL MEMORANDA, OF THE Territory of Michigan.

Soon after General Hull entered Canada, he received information of the near approach of a quantity of provisions under the escort of Capt. Brush of Ohio, and that a number of Indians had crossed from Malden with a design of cutting off the escort—on this he detached Major Vanhorn with 200 men to pretect the convoy; this detachment was surprised near Brownstown, and having received a severe fire, in which fifteen were killed, retreated back to Detroit. Intelligence of this disaster having been communicated to the General, he immediately detached lieut. Col. Miller, of the 4th reg. with 600 men, consisting of regular infantry, one company of artillery, and a detachment of Ohio and Michigan volunteers, with orders to proceed to River Rasin and meet the provisions and troops, and open the communication to Detroit. On the ninth of August, about the middle of the afternoon, a few miles above Brownstown, Colonel Miller encountered a large force of British and Indians, who had posted themselves securely behind a thicket of woods & a breast work of logs. Captain Snelling, who commanded the van-guard, received the first fire of the enemy, and though his command suffered severely, they maintained their ground, until supported by Colonel Miller with his whole force. The Colonel having formed his line, advanced to within a few paces of the enemy, gave his fire and then charged with the bayonet; the enemy gave ground and fled to Brownstown, keeping up a fire on his retreat—they were pursued until night put an end to the action. The British regular force was about 400, their whole force about 1000. Colonel Miller was compelled to forego the advantages resulting from this victory, in consequence of his being destitute of provisions, which General Hull had assured him would be forwarded after, and overtake him on his march, but was neglected, and he returned to Detroit. A few days after the colonels M'Arthur and Cass were detached on different routs to meet the troops at River Rasin, which consisted of the corps commanded by Capt. Brush and Cap Rowland, a part of Captain Campbell's company of volunteers, commanded by lieut. Day, a small detachment of Colonel Cass's regiment under lieutenant Davidson, which had been left at a block house at Miami, and a few regular soldiers of the 4th regiment, in all about 250. These troops with all the ardour which distinguished the times, were burning with impatience to join General Hull's army; and only waited his orders to advance and attempt a passage through At length, on the 15th of August, the enemy, consisting of regulars, Canadians, and Indians, amounting to about 1000 men under the command of General Brock, commenced movements which indicated an intention to cross the strait opposite Spring Wells. At this time General Hull was urged to plant a battery at that commanding eminence, which from its advantageous situation would, had it been well supported with infantry, have cut the enemy to pieces before they could have made good their landing. This course, the propriety of which was so obvious to all, was unaccountably neglected by the General, as some persuaded themselves, with a design to let the enemy place themselves more effectually in his power; for even after the enemy had unopposedly effected his landing, he must have been either captured or destroyed had General Hull permitted his troops to have fought; for whilst General Brock was marching his column along the road to Detroit, which was narrow, the river running on his right and a line of palisade fence on his left, several field pieces charged with grape and cannister, were placed in a position to have completely enfiladed his column in front. The men were ready at their guns with their matches burning, and eagerly waiting the signal to fire—at the same moment the infantry were out under arms, and could in a moment have wheeled to attack them in flank; whilst the detachment of Colonel Cass, then on its return, would have assailed them in rear. Under such circumstances, it is rational to suppose that nothing less than a miracle could have saved the British army from capture or destruction. At such a moment, when the arm of the patriot was nerved for contest, when the enemy which he had so long and so eagerly sought was before him, under circumstances so favourable, and he exulted in the hope of a proud triumph for his country, with what agonizing sensations did he behold a white flag flying over the star-spangled banner. The General, as Col. Cass observed in his letter to the war department must have taken counsel of his own feelings alone, as no one anticipated a surrender—even the women were indignant at so shameful a degredation of the American character. The volunteers were paroled and sent to their homes, and the regulars were sent to Quebeck.

The General in his articles of Capitulation included the troops and public property at River Rasin, and Captain Elliot was despatched with an escort of Indians to that place, bearing a copy of the articles of capitulation. As soon as information was communicated to that garrison, that a British officer accompanied by Indians, and bearing a flag, was approaching, a short council was held, the result of which, was a conviction on the minds of the officers, that it was a stratagem on the part of the Indians to capture the garrison and get possession of the supplies designed for General Hull. It was believed that the Indians were hovering round in force to take advantage of circumstances, and it was not thought advisable to suffer the flag to approach the place. Captain Rowland, therefore, volunteered with a small detachment to meet them some distance from the garrison. On approaching Captain Elliot, the bearer of the flag, he presented the articles of capitulation. The circumstance appeared so improbable that Captain Rowland was the more confirmed in his first impressions, that it was a stratagem. He therefore disarmed the party, and blindfolded and conducted them into the fort. In tne evening of the same day, which was the 17th, some stragglers of our army, who had escaped from Detroit, arrived and brought a full confirmation of the painful and disgraceful fact. The same night a council was held, in which, it was determined immediately to commence a retreat to the state of Ohio, which after encountering innumerable difficulties, was safely effected.

A beautiful specimen of the art of cutlery was manufactured by Joseph Rogers and Sons, in Sheffield in January last. It is an elegant knife in minature, containing 30 instruments, moving on 11 springs and 14 joints, of the most exquisite workmanship; it employed the workman 28 days of close application to complete it; does not exceed five-eighrs of an inch in length, and weighs one quarter of an ounce. The following is a list of the articles contained in the above knife: One stick knife blade, one pruning knife blade and three pen-knife blades, one nail knife blade, one silver fruit knife blade, one silver tooth pick, one bow saw, one double tooth saw, one leather punch, one button hook, one pair of scissors, one gun picker, one pair of tweezers, four fleams of different sizes, one nail file, one chissel, one cork screw, one render, one timber scribe, one gimblet, one bodkin, one brad awl, one horse hook, one gun screw and one augur. Lon. pap.

PITTSBURGH.

Friday, July 9, 1819.

The most melancholy account of the ...h of the daughter of Major Wooley, ...municated for this day's paper, has ...duced sensations that can never be ...bliterated. It is one of those dark oc...rrences that, thank heaven, human na...re is decreed to suffer but seldom, and ...s to happen to shew poor mortality the ...lly and uncertainty of every thing ...this side the grave. The child whose ...tal fate has infected every paren...om with the most trembling anxie...y was a being of great promise and in...ligence, and had just arrived at that ...ppen, probably, the greatest degree ...terest is excited in the breast of a ...d father and an anxious mother; for ...h a loss we can only offer to the pa...ts our most unaffected sympathy; con...ce on such occasions, however, is ...ttle form; time and the mild dic...s of religion, are the only palliatives ...their agonized feelings.

Whilst on this subject, we cannot for...appealing to the citizens and police ...r city on the subject of carriages & ...s. When the extreme narrowness ...our cross streets, and the little distinc...n that exists between the side pave...ts & the other parts of them, are ta...n into consideration, the necessity of ...some urgent measures on this subject ...must be apparent. There can be no rea...son why carriages of any kind should be ...driven at a trot at any time through our ...town: the distance from one part of it to ...another is so trifling that it never can ...make the difference of more than two or ...three minutes in any case. Yet we eve...ry day see the stage driving from Col. ...Hunter's door to the Post Office, a dis...tance of about 100 yards, with as much ...velocity as if it contained some govern...mental courier; the carriage drivers of ...our citizens are not a whit behind the ...stages, in anxiety to get from one corner ...to another, and we venture to say that a ...corner is never turned in a trot without ...endangering the life of a child. In the ...last two weeks we ourselves have witnes...sed not less than six narrow escapes. It ...must not be infered that we have any hos...tility to the use of carriages; we know ...that both for pleasure and exercise they ...are highly necessary, but the streets of ...Pittsburgh are the scene for neither; we ...should be sorry to interfere with the taste ...of any of our fellow citizens male or fe...male, but rather than see another inno...cent victim roll beneath a carriage wheel, ...we would wish that every carriage should ...forever forced to adopt a pace, slow as ...that of the Eleusinean processions.

COMMUNICATED.

DISTRESSING CASUALTY.

Three gentlemen from the eastward, took a walk on Friday last, from Hunter's Hotel, to visit the Arsenal near this city. They were received by Major Wooley of the Ordinance Department with his wonted hospitality and kindness. After viewing the various workshops &c. and expressing their admiration of this elegant piece of architecture, took their leave, under a promise of dining with him the next day.—But who can tell what an hour or a day can bring forth—As they were descending the hill opposite Mr. Basham's boarding school, on their return, a little girl with a bonnet on her head, sprang suddenly forward to cross the road, one of the gentlemen seeing the danger called out to the driver to stop, but before the horses could be checked, the child was under their feet and the fore wheel had passed over its breast. No person can imagine a case of this kind without feeling for the situation of the gentlemen in the carriage, and who can conceive the anguish they felt at hearing Mrs. Basham exclaim in agony of grief, when the little sufferer was carried bleeding to her arms, "my God, it is Major Wooley's child." Surgical aid was immediately procured, and the child was conveyed to her father's house. [The child is since dead.]

HYDROPHOBIA.

Another death occasioned by this dreadful disease has occurred in our city. A young woman residing in Second, below Catharine street, named Elizabeth J. Frame, aged 19 years, was bitten by a DOG, about four weeks since and died yesterday with every symptom of hydrophobia, notwithstanding the attendance of three respectable physicians.

It is understood that several other persons were bitten by the same Dog.

We understand that the above unfortunate girl received but a slight bite, from a small lap-dog, and that the symptoms of her disease manifested themselves, only thirty-eight hours previous to her death.

NORFOLK, June 23.

Captain Carraway of the schooner Thomas Tenant, from St. Thomas, states, that a short time before he sailed, a small pirate schooner under the guise of a Patriotic privateer, and commanded by one Mason, belonging to Baltimore, had been taken by an English fifty gun ship and carried into Barbadoes—the 1st lieutenant of the privateer after he was carried on board the ship, was tucked up and had fifty lashes inflicted on his bare back.

In consequence of the depredations of those piratical cruizers upon the commerce of the Islands, a Danish sloop of war on hearing of the success of the English man of war, went out in pursuit of a small schooner, which lay off Tortola, and took possession of her by stratagem, and carried her into St. Thomas—she was commanded by one Polata. The Danish vessel took the crew into safe keeping, and not to be outdone in point of courtesy by the English man of war, they took the second in command (who belonged to within six miles of this place) and inflicted summary punishment on him. Both the above pirates were last from St. Thomas.

MOST HORRID MURDER.

On the morning of Sunday last, about day break, a most glaring and shocking murder was committed in the neighbourhood of Chesterfield Court House, (as is supposed by JAMES VEST,) upon the body of his wife SALLY VEST. Agreeably to report of the inquest, this day held on her body she was deliberately led from home by her husband, (the said James Vest,) about three miles into a piney field, and there deliberately, maliciously, and of malice aforethought, shot by him, with a large pistol or gun, the tract of which ball, after passing through her body, was seen in the bark of a large pine.

N. B. The said James Vest is about 40 years of age, five feet 4 or 5 inches high, with a small nose, a little turned up at the end, and is disposed to smile when spoken to, and is supposed he will make towards North Carolina.—Rich. Com.

CHILICOTHE, (Ohio) June 11.

On Tuesday last, three waggons loaded with specie, from the United States Branch Bank, in Cincinnati, passed thro' this place on their way to Philadelphia. They are said to contain between $120,000 and 150,000. The total amount of gold and silver, transported out of the state, within the last 12 months, is estimated at about 800,000 dollars!

A NEGRO SETTLEMENT IN OHIO.

By the following letter from a gentleman on a tour through Virginia, to the editor, it will appear that we are to have a colony of free Negroes (no less than five hundred) planted in our adjoining county. Much as we commisserate the situation of those, who, when emancipated, are obliged to leave their country, or again be enslaved, we trust our constitution and laws are not so entirely defective as to suffer us to be overrun by such a wretched population.

Hillsborough Gazette.

RICHMOND, Va. May 1819.

Dear Sir—Since my arrival in this country I have understood that a large family of negroes, consisting of about five hundred have lately been liberated and are to be marched to Ohio, and there settled on lands provided for them agreeably to the will of Mr. Gess, who formerly owned them.—There are persons engaged in collecting those miserable beings from different QUARTERS and driving them like cattle to Gooch-and county, from whence they will take up their line of march to Ohio. I am told they are perhaps as depraved and ignorant a set of people as any of their kind, and that their departure is hailed with joy by all those who had lived in their neighbourhoods. How will they be received in Ohio? not very cordially I trust. I am not prepared to say what course ought to be pursued against them: but I am well aware that our country will suffer seriously from the iniquitous policy pursued by the states of Virginia and Kentucky, in driving their free negroes upon us. The people of Ohio are bound in justice to themselves to adopt some counteracting measure, calculated to protect themselves from imposition.

Many people here are of opinion that we will be compelled to introduce slavery in Ohio in self defence, and they appear to be gratified that we are suffering and likely to suffer many of the evils attending it, without (as they call it) any of the benefits. I have been gratified to tell them what I believe to be true—that nineteen twentieths of the people of Ohio are so opposed to slavery that they would not consent to its introduction under any circumstances, and although they commiserate the situation of those who have been liberated and compelled to abandon their country, or again be made slaves, yet in justice to themselves and their posterity, they will refuse admittance to such a population. Your most ob't.

A. T——

We understand from respectable authority that 270 of said negroes have landed at Ripely, and are to settle near the centre of Brown county on White-Oak—the residue of the 500 to follow soon after.

Arrived last week at the landing, 8 miles from this town, on the Mississippi, opposite the mouth of the Missouri, the steam-boat Expedition on her voyage up the Missouri. This is one of the boats engaged to accompany the expedition to the Yellow Stone river. Col. James Johnson who is the owner, and personally engaged in the enterprize of navigating the Missouri by the power of steam is entitled to the warmest applause, for the great and persevering industry exhibited by him on this occasion. He is indeed the pioneer, by whom, if successful, a vast region, whose resources are incalculable, will be opened to the hardy and enterprizing citizens of our common country. It will indeed be a new era, in the history of the western parts of America, and posterity will owe to him an unbounded obligation of gratitude for an enterprize in which so much personal & pecuniary hazard is combined, and whose beneficial consequences no one can yet predict.

One of the last mails brought us the first number of the National Intelligencer and Boon's Lick Advertiser. It contains numerous advertisements, the evidence of increasing population. What think you reader of a newspaper at Boon's Lick in the wilds of Missouri, in 1819; where, in 1809, there was not we believe a civilized being excepting the eccentric character who gave his name to the spot—who delighted in the dreary and awful solitude by which he was surrounded—and who has since travelled further into the wilderness to avoid society, and enjoy his favorite life of a hunter. The editor of this paper has been thought extravagant for having asserted, in a private circle, his belief, that in less than a century we should in all probability have a turnpike route from Albany to the shores of the PACIFIC! But such a consummation is not less to be expected, than it was to have been supposed twenty years ago, that we should now see, on the wild and distant theatre of Boon's hunting exploits, a printing press diffusing intelligence weekly among a numerous population! And now, we repeat, that HENRY HOMESPUN, Jr. is no prophet for the second rising generation from the present will march straight forward on a smooth road and through flourishing settlements, from Albany to the Columbia river! The Yellow Stone expedition is already a grand link in this chain of communication. What a vast theatre of the rise, decline and fall of human greatness!

Albany Plough Boy.

PROVIDENCE, (R. I.) June 22.

On Tuesday last, a very interesting and painful surgical operation was performed at Warren, by Dr. Miller, of Franklin, (Mass.) assisted by Dr. P. Bowen, and Dr. Mackie, of Providence, upon the wife of Capt. Nathan Child, of that place. It was a most malignant case of a cancerous nature, in the right breast, which was wholly diseased. It is about ten months since the disease was first discovered by the patient. For several months past, the tumour rapidly increased, and of late became very painful.—The abovementioned surgeons, together with several others who attended on the distressing occasion, were unanimous in opinion, that an operation afforded the only chance for the preservation of life. The operation, which was unusually serious, painful and difficult, was performed with great adroitness, firmness and skill, by the celebrated operator, and was sustained with wonderful fortitude and composure by the unfortunate lady. The diseased part measured 29 inches in circumference when removed, and weighed 10¼ pound. She has been comfortable since the operation; and by the smiles of a kind and merciful Providence, we have reason to hope, that her health will be restored, and her valuable life protracted, to the inexpressible joy of her afflicted partner and friends. Since the human body is liable to such distressing and fatal diseases, it is a matter of unspeakable gratitude to the Great former of our bodies, that such wonderful surgical skill is provided for relief.

From a London Paper.

Execution at Maidstone.—The awful sentence of the law was executed on James Morgan and William Bowra, both capitally convicted at the Kent Assizes.

After the criminals had hung some time, the usual disgusting scene took place of persons afflicted with wens applying to the executioner for permission to have the swelling rubbed with a hand of the deceased, which the credulity and ignorance of the afflicted, led them to suppose would be an effectual cure. On this occasion, many persons of both sexes and various ages, underwent the operation.

One decent pretty looking girl, about 17 years of age, presented herself at the moment when Morgan was about to be cut down, and she actually stood upon the coffin to be sufficiently high for the hand of the corpse to be drawn several times over her neck. How great must have been the credulity which could induce a young girl, in the face of hundreds of spectators, thus publicly to expose herself in the performance of an act so revolting to female delicacy, and general feeling!

A German paper says—"Thirty-three years ago a man of the name of Morgansterne, of Benahun, went to the East Indies as a common sailor. Intelligence has been received that he is dead, leaving a fortune of 36 millions of dollars. A crowd of collateral relations claim a share of this immense property."

A woman in Paris, lately employed the following singular mode of committing suicide. Having fastened herself in her room, she placed upon her stomach a powder flask, filled with gun powder. She applied a lighted match to it, and was immediately struck dead by the explosion.

A grand velocipede match is spoken of between four amateurs. The distance to be 50 miles, and to be decided on Blackheath. It is to be for sweep stakes of 25 guineas, the first in to pocket the whole. The parties are in training.

A Meeting of the LADIES, is proposed in the Philadelphia prints, to be held in one of the rooms of the state house, on the 4th of July, in order to form and organize a company, "for the promotion of economy, encouragement of general industry, and support of the country in its present perils and afflictions. Very good.—Downingtown Repub.

The professor of botany of Transylvania University pursues, with success, his inquiries into the practibility of introducing the China Tea Shrub into the United States.—But will Canton Tea be held in the same estimation, as a beverage, when it is domestic, plenty and cheap? Is not most of its merit imaginary? It will be answered, perhaps, that its cultivation will stop the importation at any rate, and probably give us a new export. Yankee.

WEST-CHESTER, (Penn.) June 23.

One of our readers picked up a land tortoise last Saturday. It was marked "J. Patton—1784. It was taken by the fence that bound Mr. Patton's farm.

A gentleman that was looking at it mentioned a curious circumstance that occurred a year or two since. A Hawk was seen attempting to fly, but lit again immediately upon one of the lower limbs of an oak. On going nearer he perceived that a tortoise hung to his leg. The hawk had probably been upon the ground too near him and got entrapped, from which it is not likely he ever escaped. Besides flesh, the tortoise are very fond of strawberries and blackberries. They are numerous in Chester County, and great numbers of them are marked. Do any of our readers know of any one marked fifty years ago?

SHEPERDSTOWN, Va. May 20.

What a Cackling!—A lady, about 3 miles distant from this town, in eight days, from Friday the 7th till Saturday the 15th inst. actually supplied a merchant in this place with the large amount of 147 dozen and 4 eggs; the production of her own poultry yard, for the same space of time; and is now willing to make a contract to any extent for the delivery of 32 dozen every other day.

This is an example worthy of imitation. This lady has thus, in one week, by the single article of eggs alone, cleared the amount of fourteen dollars, seventy odd cents, at ten cents a dozen. She probably has 300 fowls.

CUNNING RATS.—A gentleman received a present of some Florence oil, the flasks were set in his cellar, at the bottom of a shallow box. The oil was not wanted for use, they remained there some time; when the owner going down one day by chance in the cellar, was surprised to find the wicker work, by which the flasks were stopped, gnawed from a greater part of them, and upon examination the oil had sunk about two inches or two and a half from the neck of each flask. It soon occurred to him that it must be the work of some kind of vermin; and being a man of a speculative turn, he resolved to satisfy the curiosity raised in his mind; he accordingly found means to watch, and actually detected three rats in the very fact; the necks of the flasks were long and narrow; it therefore required some contrivance; one of these stood upon the edge of the box, while another mounted his back, dipped his tail into the neck of the flask, and presented to a third to lick; they then changed places; the rat which stood uppermost descended and was accommodated in the same manner with the tail of his companion, till it was his turn to act the porter, and he took his station at the bottom. In this manner the three alternately relieved each other and banqueted upon the oil till they had sunk it beyond the length of their tails.

25,000 Tickets at 10 Dols.

WITHOUT DEDUCTION.

To draw THREE times a week, and 1000 numbers each day. Prizes payable without deduction, Sixty days after the drawing is completed.

INTERNAL NAVIGATION, the object of the above scheme, must be allowed by all, to be of the highest importance to these United States and every good citizen must feel himself deeply interested on every intimation of undertakings, having Internal Improvement in view, being set on foot, and be desirous of aiding according to his abilities, towards the promotion thereof.

Under these impressions, the Commissioners in presenting the above Scheme to a generous public, feel a confidence of general and universal support and encouragement, but more particularly from their sister States, Pennsylvania, New-York, Delaware and Maryland; who, we may safely say, have never appealed in vain to their sister state of New-Jersey; but on the contrary, have been, and ever will be, generously supported by her, in the like and other improvements.

As to the Scheme, the commissioners have endeavoured to suit it to the circumstances of all The low price of tickets will preclude very few from an opportunity of securing an independence for life, or acquiring a very handsome remuneration for the trifle advanced.

The many rich prizes it contains, with the others, will all be paid without deduction at the Camden Bank, where the money received for the Tickets will be deposited immediately, for the sole use of the Lottery.

Although there are 25 Capital Stationary Prizes amounting to ☞$67,500, one for each drawing day, yet there remain afloat as many large and valuable prizes, amounting to the sum of $152,500, as are generally to be met with in a whole Scheme, and the whole payable without any deduction therefrom. And for the accommodation of the fortunate adventurers in this Lottery, who may wish to receive their money immediately, a provision will be made at the said Bank for the payment of the prizes the VERY DAY they are drawn, on allowing the customary discount, as in Philadelphia or New-York.

The Lottery will be drawn in Camden, opposite the city of Philadelphia, and the Manager flatters himself that such encouragement will be given by a generous public as will enable him in the course of a very few weeks, to announce in the papers of the several states, the day the drawing will commence.

Contractors will be allowed a liberal discount.
